BARRINGTON PLANTATION

STATE HISTORIC SITE

Washington, Texas

TEXAS HISTORICAL COMMISSION

REAL PLACES TELLING REAL STORIES

Storied Sites of Texas

BARRINGTON PLANTATION

Travel back in time to 1850 and explore the original home of Anson Jones, the last President of the Republic of Texas. The Jones family lived at the plantation for over a decade, farming cotton with enslaved labor after Texas joined the union. This living history site is complete with period costumed interpreters preserving 19th century farming practices such as planting, cultivating, harvesting and working livestock. Experience the daily lives of those who labored in Texas more than 150 years ago.

23400 Park Rd. 12 | Washington, TX 77880
936-878-2214
barrington-plantation@thc.texas.gov
visitbarringtonplantation.com

Located between Austin and Houston, the site is 20 miles east of Brenham.

FIND US ON

thc.texas.gov

25K 08/2019